

UPCOMING

APRIL 22ND, 2023*Earth Day

On this annual event attention is paid to environmental protection. This year's theme is "Invest In Our Planet". Over the last decades, environmental protection and climate change mitigation have gotten a more pronounced place in Dutch development cooperation, as you can find in our timeline on 70+ years of Development Cooperation.

Get to know NICC!

Nikki IJzerman

Hi! My name is Nikki, I'm 22 years old and will be starting my internship at the NICC next month. My focus is on the NCDO photo-archive, but I will also be involved in the Global Citizenship Timeline. Furthermore I hope to help NICC in exploring ways for creatively introducing new media. I am very excited to get to know the organisation and learn more about Dutch international cooperation.

WHATS NEW?

We are planning a kick-off event for <75 years of International Cooperation on the 2nd of October this year. Stay tuned for updates!

We have a new gender timeline launching! It is called "Women's Economic Empowerment". It is up on the website right now. Do check it out and reach out with any questions or feedback you might have!

Last month, we received the NCDO archive at the NICC in the Hague. Currently, we are sorting through all the material and are working on a topic timeline on the NCDO itself. Interested? Reach out to stichtingnicc.nl

Follow us on Twitter, LinkedIn, and Facebook.
Check out the website here.

Right now I'm doing a masters in Journalism and New Media at Leiden University, but I have a background in History. Last year I did a course in Global Poverty and Local Solutions at the ISS. At NICC, my interests in history and international relations come together, while I can also further develop journalistic skills such as writing, editing and interviewing. Therefore I'm really happy to be back in The Hague and I'm looking forward to starting my internship!